if you lived anywhere else in the country you would probably send your child to your neighborhood high school in new york city it's much more complicated than that but what parent has time to research hundreds of school options to help you choose a high school that is just right for your child clara hemphill and her colleagues at insideschools visited nearly all of the city's 400 high schools this essential revision of the critically acclaimed parents guide features new school profiles invaluable advice to help parents and students through the stressful admissions process and new sections on alternative schools vocational schools and schools for students learning english featuring interviews with teachers parents and students this guide uncovers the inside scoop about school atmosphere homework student stress competition among students the quality of teachers gender issues the condition of the building class size and much more for this third edition i looked for schools that spark students curiosity broaden their horizons and help them develop into thoughtful caring adults clara hemphill praise for clara hemphill's parents guides new york daily news brisk thoughtful profiles of topnotch intriguing schools big apple parent hemphill has done for schools what zagat's did for restaurants new york magazine thoughtful well researched required reading the new york times a bible for urban parents this book is about learning and ethnography in the context of technologies simultaneously it portrays young people's thinking attitudes in computer based learning environments and it describes how the practice of ethnography is changing in a digital world the author likens this form of interaction to the double helix where learning and ethnography are intertwined to tell an emergent story about partnerships with technology two school computer cultures were videotaped for this study separated not only by geography one school is on the east coast of new england and the other on the west coast of british columbia on vancouver island they are also separated in other ways ethnic make up and inner city vs rural settings to name only two yet these two schools are joined by a strong thread a change in their respective cultures with the advent of intensive computer use on the part of the students both school communities have watched their young people gain literacy and competence and their tools have changed from pen to computer video camera multimedia and the internet perhaps most striking is that the way they think of themselves as learners has also changed they see themselves as an active participant in the pilot's seat or director's chair as they chart new connections between diverse and often unpredictable worlds of knowledge i hadn't even gotten to homeroom yet and i'd already discovered five hard truths about junior high 1 my best friend had turned pretty 2 she didn't know it yet 3 it wouldn't be long before she did 4 that knowledge would change everything between us 5 and there wasn't a thing i could do about it it's the first day of seventh grade is jessica darling doomed for dorkdom new york times bestselling author megan mccafferty's hilarious new novel will have you laughing cringing and cheering for jessica darling as she learns that being herself beats being popular pretty perfect any day
